Capital Asset Policy

I. PURPOSE

Stevens Memorial Community Library recognizes the material investments it has made in its physical assets, and the necessity to ensure adequate steps are taken to protect from loss or misuse of these assets. This policy sets general procedures and overall requirements for protecting the Library's capital assets by establishing the minimum value, useful life and depreciation method of assets to be tracked for inventory control and for financial reporting purposes. This policy will also describe the procedure the Treasurer will take when adding and/or deleting assets from a master capital asset listing.

II. DEFINITIONS

Capital assets primarily include land, buildings and building improvements, and equipment that are used in operations and have initial useful lives extending beyond a single reporting period.

III. GUIDELINES

Overview: Capital assets are recorded at historical cost or estimated historical cost if purchased or constructed. Donated capital assets are recorded at acquisition value. The costs of normal maintenance and repairs that do not add to the value of the asset or materially extend assets lives are not capitalized.

Capitalization Classifications, Thresholds and Lives: The Library uses three (3) fixed asset classifications for reporting purposes which include: land, buildings and building improvements, and equipment. The capitalization threshold is the cost established by the Library Director and Treasurer that must be met or exceeded if the asset is to be recorded and depreciated as a capital asset. Land is not depreciated. The capital assets of the Library will be depreciated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives presented as follows:

Assets	Years	Capitalization Threshold
Buildings	25 – 50	$75,000
Building Improvements	10 – 50	$75,000
Equipment	3 – 20	$20,000

Identification and additions: Assets are identified at the time of purchase. Where the threshold defined above is met, these particular items are charged to the equipment (0200) line of the Library. At year end, the Treasurer will review the purchases to ensure they meet the definition of a capital asset and record it as such in a spreadsheet that tracks the depreciation. A review of other expense lines is performed to ensure assets did not get charged to an incorrect account.

Donations: Donations are defined as voluntary contributions of resources. Where a donation meets the definition of a capital asset and where its value at the time of donation meets the capitalization threshold, the asset will be treated as a capital asset addition in accordance with this policy.

Inventories and disposals: To maintain accuracy and completeness of capital assets, a physical inventory is conducted on an annual basis by the Library Director where a listing will be provided by the Treasurer. The listing will be reviewed and the assets physically located. If an asset listed has been disposed of, it will be noted on the list and documentation of the disposal is forwarded to the Treasurer along with the completed inventoried list. The Treasurer will use this list to update the fixed assets record and will match surplus/disposal forms and resolutions to the list.

Depreciation: Capital assets shall be depreciated over their estimated useful lives in accordance with this policy using the straight-line method. The straight-line depreciation method is the asset cost divided by the asset's useful life. Half year convention (recording ½ year of depreciation) will be utilized depending on the purchase date of the asset.

Leased equipment or assets: Equipment shall be capitalized if the lease agreement transfers ownership of the property to the lessee by the end of the lease term.

Disposition of Capital assets: When an asset is sold, a gain or a loss shall be recognized when cash is exchanged and the amount paid does not equal the net book value of the asset or when cash is not exchanged and the asset is fully depreciated but has a residual value.

Declaration of Surplus: Surplus of property is addressed in the Library's purchasing manual. In summary, no items owned by the Library may be destroyed or disposed of without prior approval by either the Director (if valued less than $1,000) or via resolution and approval by the Board (if valued at $1,000 or greater). As stated in that policy "In order to avoid any potential conflicts of interest or to avoid even the appearance of impropriety, no paid employee or Board member and/or no business corporation or entity of any nature in which these individuals have an interest, shall be permitted to contract with the Library to purchase any property for sale by the Library. Any bid received by the Library in contravention of this mandate shall be rejected and declared null and void".

Surplus Property and Scrap Metal Policy

Items acquired with public funds are subject to regulatory disposal procedures, therefore no items owned by Stevens Memorial Community Library (“the Library”) may be destroyed or disposed of without prior approval. Any item owned by the Library valued at less than $1,000 can be declared surplus and disposed of with the approval of the Library’s Director. Items valued at $1,000 or greater must be declared surplus via resolution and approval of the Board of Directors (“the Board”). The valuation of items is based on a good faith estimate.

A Library Property Disposal Form (for items valued at less than $1,000) can be found attached to this policy.

A sample resolution for the declaration of surplus equipment can also be found attached to this policy. Whether using the Property Disposal Form or the resolution for the declaration of surplus equipment, please note the serial number of each item, if one exists.

In the event an item is traded in for a new item, a Property Disposal Form and/or Resolution will be required in advance of the transaction.

In order to avoid any potential conflicts of interest or to avoid even the appearance of impropriety, no paid employee or Board Member and/or no business corporation or entity of any nature in which these individuals have an interest, shall be permitted to contract with the Library to purchase any property for sale by the Library. Any bid received by the Library in contravention of this mandate shall be rejected and declared null and void.

All scrap/waste metal of any type generated from the operations of the Library shall be properly disposed of. The scrap vendor will provide the Library with a printed receipt for all materials received and the cash received shall be recorded in the Library’s cash register.

Credit Card Policy

Stevens Memorial Community Library ("the Library") maintains a single corporate credit card account as an option for the Director to use for emergency purchases and purchases for which other forms of payment are impossible, impractical, or likely to result in delays between the purchase of a good or service and its receipt, such as travel. With prior approval from the Board of Directors ("the Board"), a bank credit card will be established in the name of the Library with a maximum credit limit set by the Library.

The credit card will be held by the Director until such time as approved employees need it. It must be returned immediately after use, within reason, with proper receipt for safekeeping.

The use of the card does not circumvent the need to follow purchasing requirements as set forth in the Library's Purchasing Policy. Every effort to use other payment methods in lieu of the credit card must be attempted. When travel is involved, usage must be in accordance with the Library's travel policy.

Credit card receipts are subject to the claims audit process currently in place at the Library. All credit card receipts, in proper form, and invoices must be submitted immediately to the Director and reconciled on a monthly basis. A proper receipt is defined as the original paid receipt indicating the amount paid, the vendor name, and the itemized description of the purchases. In the case of books, subscriptions, or similar orders - a copy of the order form or document and packing slip or other receiving document. Examples of receipts which are considered not proper: non-itemized cash register receipts; and handwritten requests for reimbursement without receipts or other verification.

A lost, stolen or suspected hacked card must be reported to the credit card company immediately and to the Board of Directors within a reasonable amount of time.

The credit card must not be saved in any on-line website such as Paypal, Etsy, etc, other than to the Library's Amazon account.

This credit card shall be the only credit card utilized by the Library for Library business. Employees' personal credit cards will not be acceptable to be used for Library business unless it is needed while traveling for business.
